

The refurbishment and extension of the Ragenhaus is situated in the historical centre of Bruneck, a unique agglomeration characterized by a series of aristocratic villas featuring large gardens enclosed by walls. One of those villas, the Ragenhaus, is home to the current music school.

Enhancing the urban identity of the city, the school extension develops in continuity with the building typology and urban setting.

