The project, in its formation/masterplan, foresees a regeneration also from the point of view of the different possibilities of getting to know this place: an organization that is thematic of the Park. This makes it possible to enrich visits by rediscovering the historical botanical value of the area in connection with the topical places identified in the nineteenth century by the designer Antonio Caregato Negrin, following the story of the spaces linked together by an important perceptive structure, with the attendance of the designated areas to small events, concerts, theatre, and defining the area for the little ones with simple play activities.
