

The lighting and furniture elements are designed and custom built with waste such as discarded divers' oxygen bottles. Care for the environmental impact is also perceived in the orientation of the lamp so that it avoids light pollution, as well as in the watering of the greenery, which is supplied with recycled water.

